

Stainless Steel Crowns

The tissue around the crown just placed may be tender when the anesthetic wears off. If necessary, Tylenol or similar medication may be used.

Discolored saliva is quite normal for a period of several hours. A grayish white appearance of the tissue around the Stainless Steel Crown for a few days.

The chewing of sticky foods in this area should be minimized as it might dislodge the crown.

If you have any cause for concern, contact us.

Wachusett Pediatric Dentistry
Thafur Shemmeri, DMD, MScD, DScD, P.C.
100 Whalon Street
Fitchburg, MA 01420
1 (978) 342-3004